I injured my shoulder working out, I told staff that I was in the worst pain I ever felt in my life and that I think my shoulder is out of place at the time I was on knees crying staff gave me morphine and told me only way I was going to hospital was if I was bleeding out. After 5 to 6 hours of the crying and screaming for help I called N.P. Michael Lewis by this time Co. James Anderson, Co. William Sgt. Tank had jump on me with all their weight and Co. James Anderson had tazed me because I could not put my left arm behind my back. Co. James Anderson tazed me to I lost my breath then forced my arm behind my back. I was then forced into a restraint chair where staff force my left arm strap to the chair. All this was done to me because I was kicking the door for help and the window broke. I started kicking the window because staff was refusing my help by not taking me to the hospital and Sgt. Tank turned the phone off so that I couldn't call home to tell my family how I was being mistreated. Dr. Michael Lewis came later while I was strapped down to chair.

Asking for 250,000.00 in Compensatory Damages
50,000.00 in punitive Damages. I am asking for this amount because a serious medical condition carries with it a serious medical need, when officials fails to provide treatment for a detainee's serious medical condition the detainee has endured an objectively serious deprivation. Levit v Corr Med, Serv, Inc 645 F3d At 560 (1st Cir 2011); Blackmon v Kalamazoo City 390 F3d At 896-899 (6th Cir 2004) as a delay in treatment led to an adverse health outcome there is evidence that verifies a detrimental effect of the delay in treatment. Napire v Madison City 258 F3d At 742 6th Cir 2001. As knowledge of a particular medical condition establishes intent, NP. Michael Lewis, James Anderson an co. willing who forced me because I couldn't place an arm with a dislocated shoulder behind my back, and Sgt M. Tuck who had me strapped to a chair with a dislocated shoulder they have purposely ignored and failed to get pain they have perceived fact or a serious medical need and failed to take measures to abate the risk. Constock v McCrory 273 F3d 753 (6th Cir 2001). protocol was followed as to getting you medical attention. Deputies tried assisting you by giving you motrin and then checked your vitals. Then the nurse saw you and when you weren't happy with her response she told you she would contact the NP. He then came in to see you i believe twice throughout the day saturday.

Responses

The only way you get taken to the hospital is if the nurse and doctor have seen you and send you there. If the nurse on staff and the doctor who works at the jail don't feel it is an emergency situation, then we do not overrule the medical professionals and take you to the hospital. They are in charge of medical situations

The hot packs are prepackaged and heat up when you break the pack inside. All hot packs are the same we dont heat them up ourselves. If it was so hot that it was burning you, you could have taken it off so you didnt get burnt.

We don't force anyone to take medication. I believe he offered you medication to help calm you down and to help your muscles.

Responses

A lazer deployment does not automatically require a set of vitals to be taken. There is no grievable issue.

I was denied a doctor and there was something really wrong with me. as seen on my xray. today I just seen a imate rushed to the hospital for chest pains he is also a white imate and when he came back there was nothing really wrong with him. so we know staff really do treat OTHER imates different.

Responses

Not a grievable issue or comment
